3,275 Pints Blood Given During April

Blood collections for the month of April exceeded those of any April in the history of the blood program, the Appalachian Center announces. Collections in March also produced the best record for that month in the programs history.

A total of 3,275 pints were collected the past month, broken down as follows: 21 mobile visits brought in 2,733 pints for an average of 131 pints per visit; the Center produced 127 pints in 7 operations for an average of 25 pints each while one Center trip to the C. E. Plant in Salem produced 335 pints.

Other top collections were: Radford (Arsenal) 262; Pulaski (Arsenal) 260; Bassett, (Henry Co.) 249; Lexington 195; Buena Vista 186; Waynesboro 179; Martinsville 169; Roanoke College (Salem) 134; Prince Edward (Farmville) 134 and Blacksburg 119.

Poorest collections were: Summers County 47; Wytheville 33; Greenbrier (Rupert) 63; Washington 90; Bedford 65.

"Everyone in the blood program is delighted to learn that April's blood collection exceeded that of any previous month in the history of the Region," Frank Whitten, Volunteer Regional Chairman said.

"We still have a long way to go to equal last year's record, due to the poor collections during December, January and February and March when weather conditions were the worst in many years.

"If we all work just a little harder during May and June we can make our quota."
